Galapagos Park Rules

ACTIVITY GUIDELINES

1. Begin by discussing the idea that tourists themselves have a responsibility to behave in a certain way or to spend their money ethically.
2. In groups of two or three students can pick a Galapagos Island National Park rule at random and perform a thirty second mime.
3. Peers can guess try and guess the rule being mimed, note it down and give suggestions as to why it is needed. All students can then try to put the rules in an order of importance and justify this order by giving verbal feedback.
